

Jones Lane Elementary School PTA Week 28 Update

I hope your first day of homeschooling went well. Below are some resources to help in the days to come. Please reach out to me if you need help with anything or have other resources that you think I should share. I may reach out more often than once a week since this is one of the few modes of interaction that we have available.

PANERA SPIRIT NIGHT

As you likely anticipated, tonight's spirit night is cancelled.

FREE MEALS AVAILABLE

Meals will be available for all of our students Monday through Friday, from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at 20 schools throughout the county. Free lunches, which children can take home and eat, will be available for all children 18 years old and younger. Starting on Tuesday, students will be provided breakfast and lunch meals to take home. Please visit www.montgomeryschoolsmd.org to see the complete list of meal sites and for other important information on our coronavirus response. The link for volunteers to help with distribution is no longer active.

FREE INTERNET ACCESS

Here's one resource to help low income family stay connected while schools are closed. Please share with your school communities.

WEBINAR

Please join Learning Heroes and GreatSchools on Wednesday, March 18 at 2pm for an interactive webinar on how parents can support their child's learning at home, as well as resources to help parents have a more holistic picture of their child's progress.

As news surrounding COVID-19 continues to impact families, students, schools, and districts, several organizations have curated or developed digital resources that educators can use to help parents support their children during school closures.

We hope you can join us to learn more about the Learning Hero Roadmap, as well as resources from GreatSchools.org, such as grade-by-grade learning toolkits and other free tools in English and Spanish to help your child stay on track.

Register today and join us on March 18th for the live webinar!
